DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-9, drawn to screening methods comprising contacting a population of cells that comprise a recombinant construct encoding CCX chemokine receptor (CCX CKR) with a test agent, classified in class 435, subclass 7.21.
 - II. Claims 10-18, drawn to methods for stimulating cell growth, classified in class 435, subclass 375.
 - III. Claim 19, drawn to a method comprising transplanting tissue to a patient, classified in class 424, subclass 93.1.
 - IV. Claims 20-23, drawn to method for treating a disease associated with cell proliferation, classified in class 424, subclass dependent on agent to be administered.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions I-IV are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different designs, modes of operation, and effects (MPEP § 802.01 and § 806.06). In the instant case, each of the different inventions has a different design, mode of operation, and effect. Invention I has the effect of discovering a new molecule that may stimulate or inhibit cell proliferation and is performed using cells expressing a recombinant CCX CKR. Invention II has the effect of stimulating cell growth and must be performed that stimulate cell growth; cells may express CCX CKR natively or recombinantly.

Invention III has the effect of being a method of treatment and is performed by transplantation of tissues, indicating a mode of operation different from all other Inventions, including Invention II.

Invention IV has the effect of being a method of treatment and is performed using an agent that inhibits cell proliferation activity, thus indicating a mode of operation different from all other Inventions.

3. Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

4. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

5. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Art Unit: 1647

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Daniel C Gamett, Ph.D., whose telephone number is 571 272 1853. The examiner can normally be reached on M-F, 8:30-5:00.
